2003 Dedication

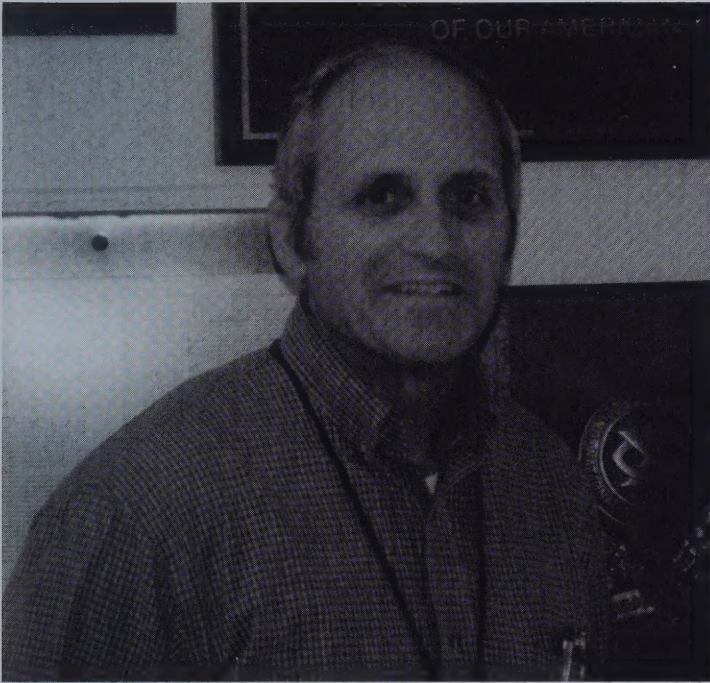

Mr. Edward Favre

Eddie Favre is the son of Ray and Alicia Favre. He graduated from Hancock North Central in 1969. He went on to attend the University of Southern Mississippi where he received his Bachelor's degree in 1973 and his Masters of Education in 1978. He is currently married to Diana Lowery. Mr. Favre has sponsored an Advisor Advisee group, Prom, GED courses, and Adult Basic Education classes while teaching at HHS. He received teacher of the month in January of 1991. Mr. Favre plans to retire this year and relax for awhile. He plans on fishing, gardening, and finding a part-time job. He also hopes to visit many friends and relatives and travel to places that he has never been able to visit before due to his work schedule. Mr. Favre has many fond memories of his thirty years at HHS. Teaching here has given him the chance to meet some of the most beautiful young people that he has ever been given the honor to associate with including some of the finest athletes and achievers to graduate from Hancock, such as Brett Favre in his ninth and twelfth grade years. Mr. Favre is pleased to have so many former students who have gone on to be professional people including teachers, lawyers, and engineers. The 2003 Hawk Staff is pleased to dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Eddie Favre for his years of service to the students of his community. Over the last thirty years he has touched the lives of many young people who will always remember his kindness and dedication.

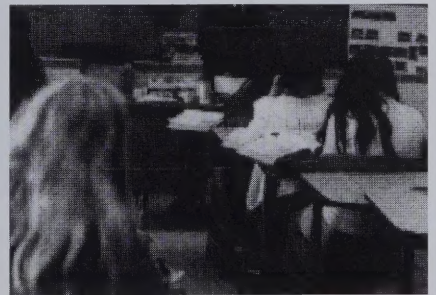

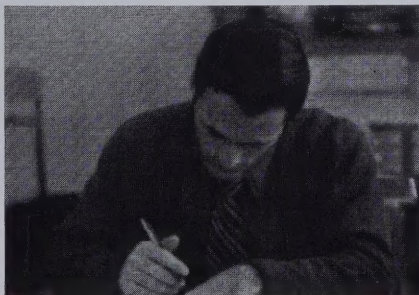

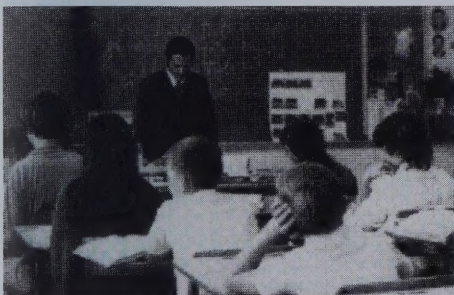

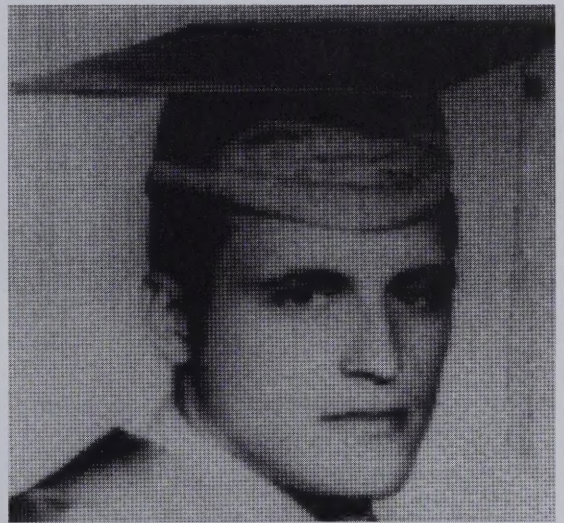

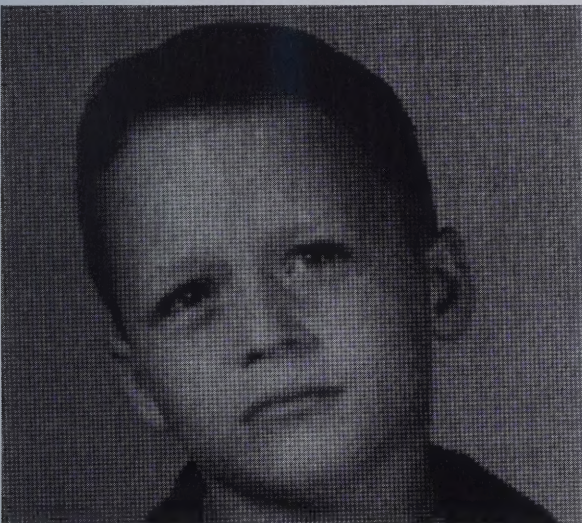

2003 Dedication

Mr. Gary Ladner

Mr. Gary Ladner is the son of A.D. Ladner and Hallie Ladner. He graduated from Hancock North Central in 1968 and went on to attend Pearl River Junior College where he received his Associate's Degree. Mr. Ladner attended the University of Southern Mississippi where he earned his Bachelor's degree in secondary education. Mr. Ladner began his teaching career at Hancock North Central in 1972 and served as a volunteer coach in his first year of teaching. He married Virginia Gebhardt in 1976 and has a daughter, Jenny, and a granddaughter, Annie. He has sponsored Key Club, the Senior Class, and Advisor Advisee, and was a recipient of the Star Teacher award. After many years of dedication Mr. Ladner plans to continue teaching here at Hancock. Mr. Ladner currently serves as chairperson of the social studies department and teaches government, economics, and Biblical history. His fondest memories of teaching here at HHS are when he was given the opportunities to teach his daughter, brother, and cousins. The 2003 Hawk staff takes pride in dedicating this year's annual to Mr. Gary Ladner for his many years of valuable service and for his continuing contribution to education in Hancock County.

Central Office Staff

Superintendent Mike Ladner

sent themselves in ways unseen before. Prepare yourselves for them and be ever diligent for the coming. On behalf of the Board of Education and the central office staff, I wish all of you continued success and always remember the red, white and blue with "Hawk Pride". Go forth young people and do many good things!

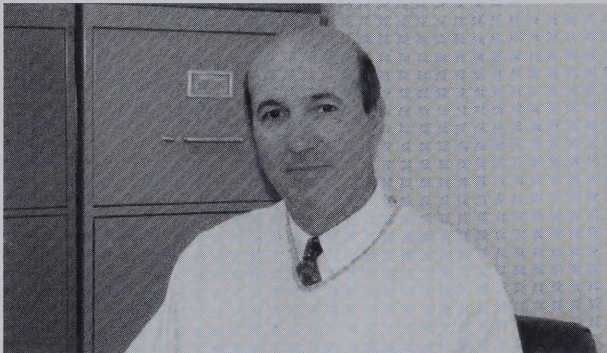

Sincerely

Mike Ladner, Superintendent
Hancock County School District

Congratulations to the class of 2002 - 2003. It is personally gratifying and I feel extremely fortunate to have the opportunity to serve you. The responsibility for your success lies squarely upon my shoulders. This, I take very seriously and will work diligently on your behalf. I personally feel there is no greater call than to serve and gladly accept the challenge.

Allow me the opportunity to commend the faculty and staff for their very dedicated and unswerving devotion to our children. We must endeavor to labor rigorously toward teaching and learning. I challenge all those involved with helping our children to become a beacon of light for others who may be faltering. It is overwhelmingly obvious that we all have a common goal to place "Kids First".

At this writing, our great nation is on the verge of a war with Iraq. We wish our troops much success and pray for their safety and well-being. There are many challenges that lie ahead for our young people. These challenges pre-

Jessica Stimens and Mr. McWright

I have known Mr. McWright for three years now, and for three years, he has been my teacher. Normally, it is a teacher's responsibility to lecture, give test, and grade papers. It is not often that a teacher really reaches out past these responsibilities to get to know a student. Mr. McWright has. He cares for his students and takes an active interest not only in their music but also in their lives. I cannot count the times that I've walked into the band hall crying and he gave me some sagely advice. I think I've heard "It's not the end of the world if you make a bad grade" a million times. Any teacher who reaches out beyond the classroom deserves to be commended. Mr. McWright has taught me that just because you can play the song does not mean that you are hearing the music. Every person plays a song; Mr. McWright takes the time to hear the music.

Natasha
Arce

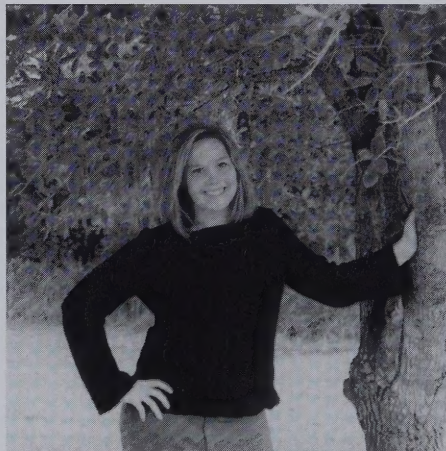

Upon arriving at Hancock High in my sophomore year, I was nervous and scared. I had two teachers that are said to be the toughest, Mrs. Burton and Mrs. Todd. I survived, thankfully. My junior year was a hectic one, I was involved in many clubs at my former school and I chose to do the same here. I attended many competitions and had great fun. Another aspect of school is friendship. I made many friends and some of my closest friends ever are from Hancock. I will always remember the silly jokes like "rampant," "boneless skinless chicken breast," and "take a lap." All of my teachers have taught me so much that I can actually use in the future. They prepared me for the future and I am very thankful for that. For a school that is in the middle-of-nowhere, Hancock has given me many memories. -Natasha Arce

Emily Dickinson, one of my favorite poets once wrote,

"We never know we go — when we are going
We jest and shut the door;
Fate following behind us bolts it,
And we accost no more."

This bit of poetry describes the way I feel about graduating from high school. A door is closing in my life, and as it is bolted shut, I think, "There is no going back", but this is not the end. In fact, it is only the beginning, the start of new opportunities and friendships. I have always wanted to leave my mark upon Hancock High School, and in many ways, I believe I have. Being named as part of the 2003 Hall of Fame certainly proves this goal. I feel very honored and thankful for this acknowledgement. So, am I ready to shut the door to my high school years and move on through life? Yes ... I do believe I am. - Veronica Fucich

I am extremely honored to have been selected as a recipient of this year's Hancock High School Hall of Fame. As I look back on the past four years of hard work, dedication, and sacrifices that it took to stay focused on my academics as well as athletics, I realize how difficult things seemed then but how much they mean now and how it has all paid off. Life places many obstacles in the way of success; however, we must look deep within ourselves in order to find our strength and overcome them. My outlook has always been to trust yourself and most importantly, trust that the Lord will never put more in your way than you can handle. High School is not always easy, nor is it meant to be; however, it is important to always strive for excellence, never settle for second best, and never give up! - Lacy Grimes

My high school years have been lots of fun. I will have good memories from Mr. Goldings' classes, band trips, paintball, math, and science convention, and AP Physics' Conversation Fridays. An important lesson I have learned in high school is that getting A's and awards are great, but that alone will not carry you through life. The knowledge gained is more important than school awards of GPA. What you accomplish with your life after high school, whether it is a college degree or a skilled trade, will mean much more than awards. Einstein did not have all A's or made the Hall of Fame; however, he is known as one of the smartest men to have ever lived. Last but not least, if you ever receive a message from yourself before you send it, make sure you send it anyway. -Brian Hamburg

Journey - noun - travel or passage from one place to another.

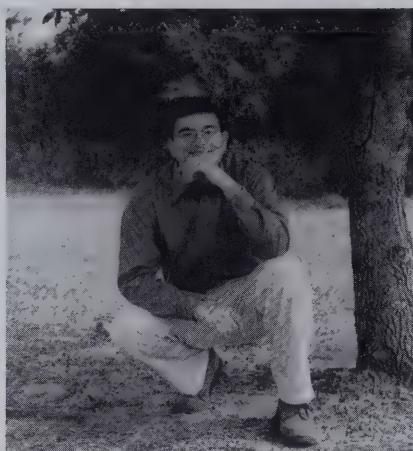

As an insignificant freshman entering high school I thought I was about to travel the longest most trying journey of my life. How naïve I was. I see now, as a soon to be college freshman, that high school is only a taste of the true journey: the rest of my life. As graduation is soon approaching, I realize I must face my new life alone, without the protection of my parents, but I anxiously wait to use the knowledge and life lessons I attained while in high school. I am very proud that because of many wonderful teachers like Mr. Golding I am ready to jump headfirst into the world. In just a few short months, the Senior Class of 2003 will have to make this jump, whether we are ready to or not. I know we will all go our separate ways as we pass on to the next phase of our lives, but we will always be connected by the many memories of our journey through Hancock High School. - Dana Harris

Devin
Necaise

It is truly an honor being selected for the 2003 Hall of Fame. I have had many great experiences here at Hancock High School. I have met many wonderful people who have helped build my character as a person, student, and athlete. I would also like to thank those many people who have supported me throughout the years. Most of all, I believe being selected into the Hall of Fame shows that great things happen to those who are patient, dedicated, and hard-working. -Devin Necaise

The experience I have shared throughout my high school years have been like no other. With the many trips school has taken me through, I see how many dreams in life are now possible. After accumulating all the knowledge Hancock has given me, I can now move on to college to acquire more knowledge to make my life the way I have always dreamed it would be. The memories throughout high school have taught me several lessons. The foremost of them being that no matter what you want in life, you have to work for it, so always remember your work distinguishes you. Think of how people will remember you after you are gone. What do you want people to remember you by?

Being chosen as a member of the Hancock Hall of Fame is truly the most meaningful award I have received to date. In all honesty, I was not anticipating my move to Hancock; however, I leave Hancock with countless memories, good and bad, as well as life lessons that I will forever reflect upon. I have my family, friends, and teachers to thank for my achievements. Without their loyalty, support, and dedication, much of what I know today would not have been made possible. Dedicated teachers, without a doubt, made the frustrating journey through high school much more rewarding, and without them, attending exciting competitions and conventions would never have been possible. A piece of advice to the underclassmen: carpe diem. Do not let your high school years pass you by without achieving something that makes you proud, and remember to bring out the positive in even the worst situations. Best of luck to all my friends I leave behind and all my love to my best friend and baby brother Chris. - Andrea White

No more than 5% of the senior class is accepted into the Hall of Fame each year. These honorable few have been chosen for the Hall of Fame for the class of 2003.

We know what we are but know not what we may be.
William Shakespeare

Four years have passed, and now we may begin to wonder where the time has gone. As graduation approaches, it is time to think not only of the future but the past as well. Yes, it is time to reminisce about the events and accomplishments our class has experienced together. For example, the class of 2003 is legendary when it comes to the Homecoming Display Contests. After all, we have won every year since we were freshmen. That is certainly something to be proud of. Also, we triumphed over the first, last and Homecoming pep rallies. Sure, we won many more, but who is counting?

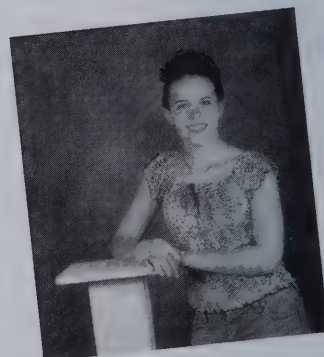

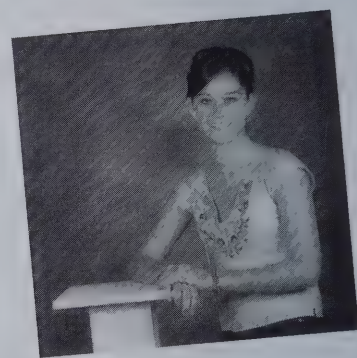

Senior year is somewhat bittersweet. Of course, it is great because well, we are seniors, the rulers of the school, but it can be sad, too, especially when we play the last ball game or dance the last dance. Soon, we will say our goodbyes and other tasks will fill our days. Soon, high school will be only a fading memory.

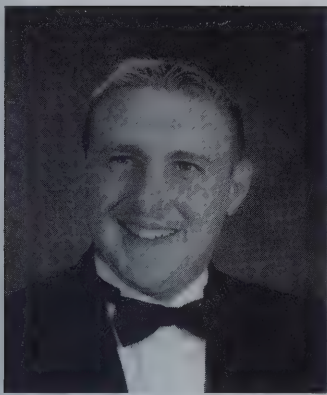

No matter where we go or who we meet, may we never forget where we have come from and may we never forget the class we will forever be apart of ...

Who's the class they want to be?
The mighty class of 2003 ...

Who's Who of the Class of 2003

Class of 2004

Just Juniors ...

As Juniors we are never wrong and we know everything right? WRONG! We are still just Juniors and we still have plenty left to learn ...

Unstoppable ...

We can't stop now. We've come too far. Pretty soon we'll be on top ...

New Expectations ...

As we approach our Senior year we realize how close we are to graduation. We begin to set higher standards and have new expectations for ourselves.

It's our turn ...

We will soon begin the 2003-2004 school year. This year will be OUR year. We will be working toward new beginnings.

One more year ...

That's all we have left together as a class. Scary, isn't it? Most of next year will be dedicated to making decisions for college and future careers.

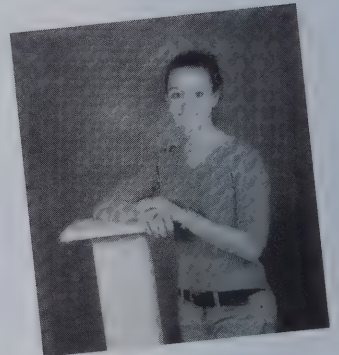

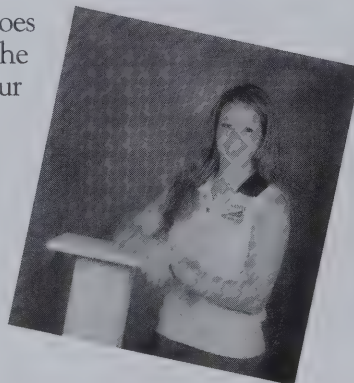

Realization ...

We begin to realize who our true friends really are. The actual realization is in realizing that we will soon be going our separate ways and keeping the friends that we have will be a difficult task.

Satisfaction ...

It is very important that we stay on our toes next year so we can all be satisfied with the accomplishments we have made throughout our High School Year.

Class of 2006

This year, as Freshmen, has been a challenging but exciting experience. The transition from the middle school to the High School has been of our biggest changes yet, but by working together we have been just as successful as any other call. Though we had butterflies in the beginning, as we met new people and made many lasting friends, we lost our fears and became a unique part of Hancock High. Now we can say we have achieved our goal of surviving our first year of high school as the class of 2006!

Message From the Athletic Director

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Hancock High School Yearbook staff for all their support and coverage of our student athletes this year. The memories that each athlete and coach have of the times spent as part of our various squads are very important to us. We, the student athletes and coaching staff, are blessed to have the yearbook as a source to hold these memories in for ever.

As athletic director here at Hancock High School it is my honor and privilege to work with the best young men and young ladies that our nation has to offer. I am also very proud of our coaching staff which is so dedicated and loyal to our young people, the school, and to each other.

Statistics clearly show that when students are involved in extracurricular activities and sports they are much more successful in school and also later in life. I would hope that every student here at Hancock who is not involved in athletics at the present will give consideration to getting involved in some of our many programs. We believe we have done a great job of representing our school and community in the largest classification in the state the past two years. The more participation we have the higher we can all go.

Be a real "Hawk". There's nothing else like it!

Sincerely,

Rocky Gaudin
Athletic Director & Head Football Coach

HHS Salutes Coach Weir

Coach Jeremy Weir has been teaching social studies at Hancock High since 2001. In addition to his teaching responsibilities he is an assistant football coach and the head boy's track coach. This school year he sponsored the Youth Legislature group that attended the mock legislature in Jackson. Coach Weir is a member of the 890th Engineering Battalion of the Mississippi National Guard which specializes in heavy construction. On February 3, 2003, Coach Weir, who is an E-4 specialist, was placed on active duty in response to the crisis in Iraq. All of us at Hancock High are looking forward to Coach Weir's speedy return and extend to him and his family our best wishes.

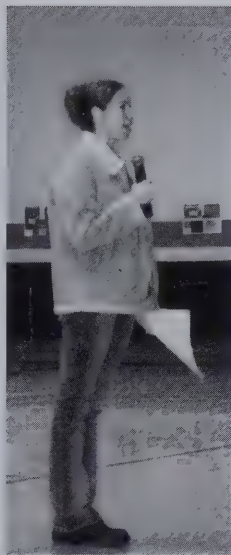

Coach Weir says goodbye to his wife Tracy and two daughters Hannah and Sarah.

THE CLASS OF 2003

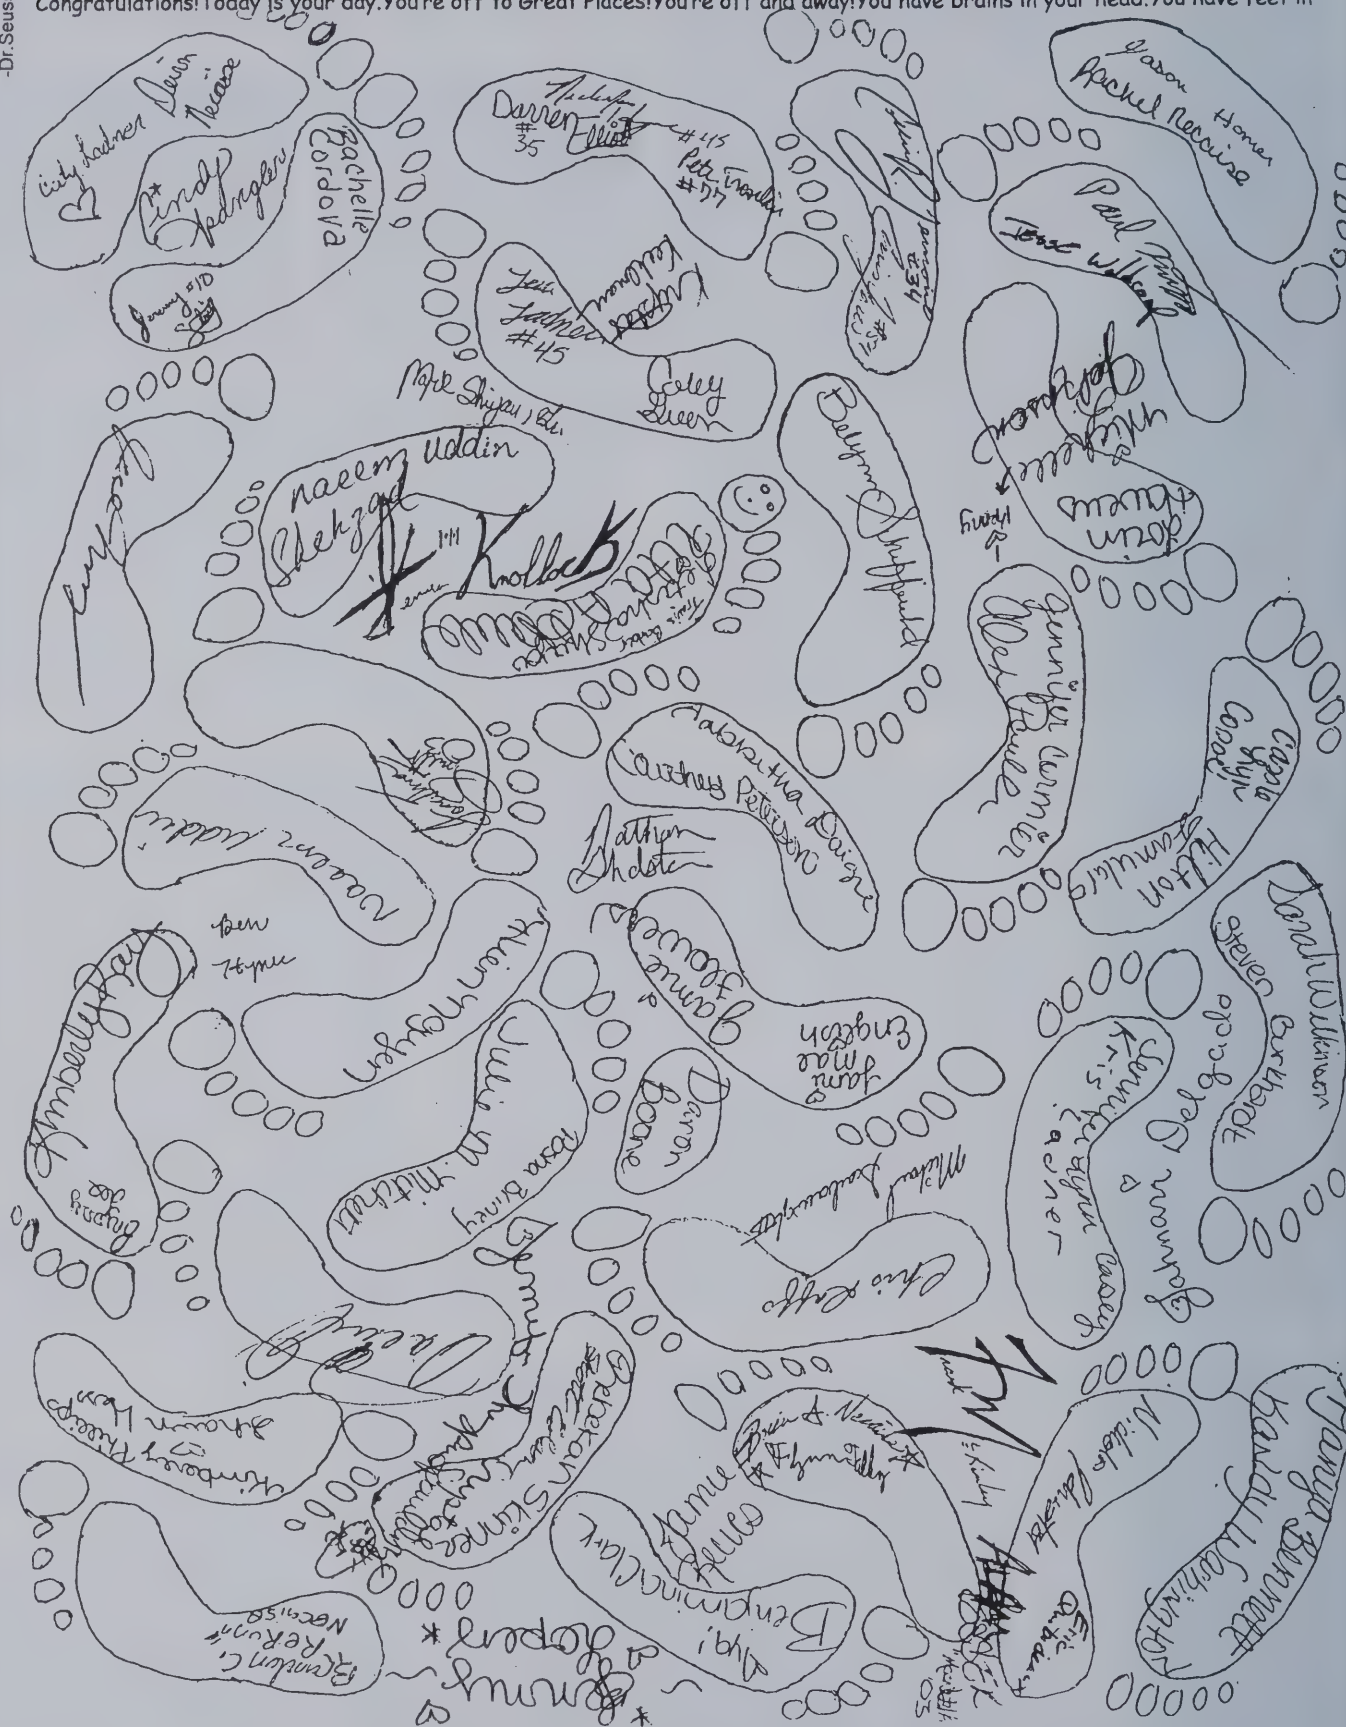

do to people as brainy and footsy as you. And when things start to happen, don't worry. Don't stew. Just go right along. You'll start happening too. OH! THE PLACES YOU'LL GO!

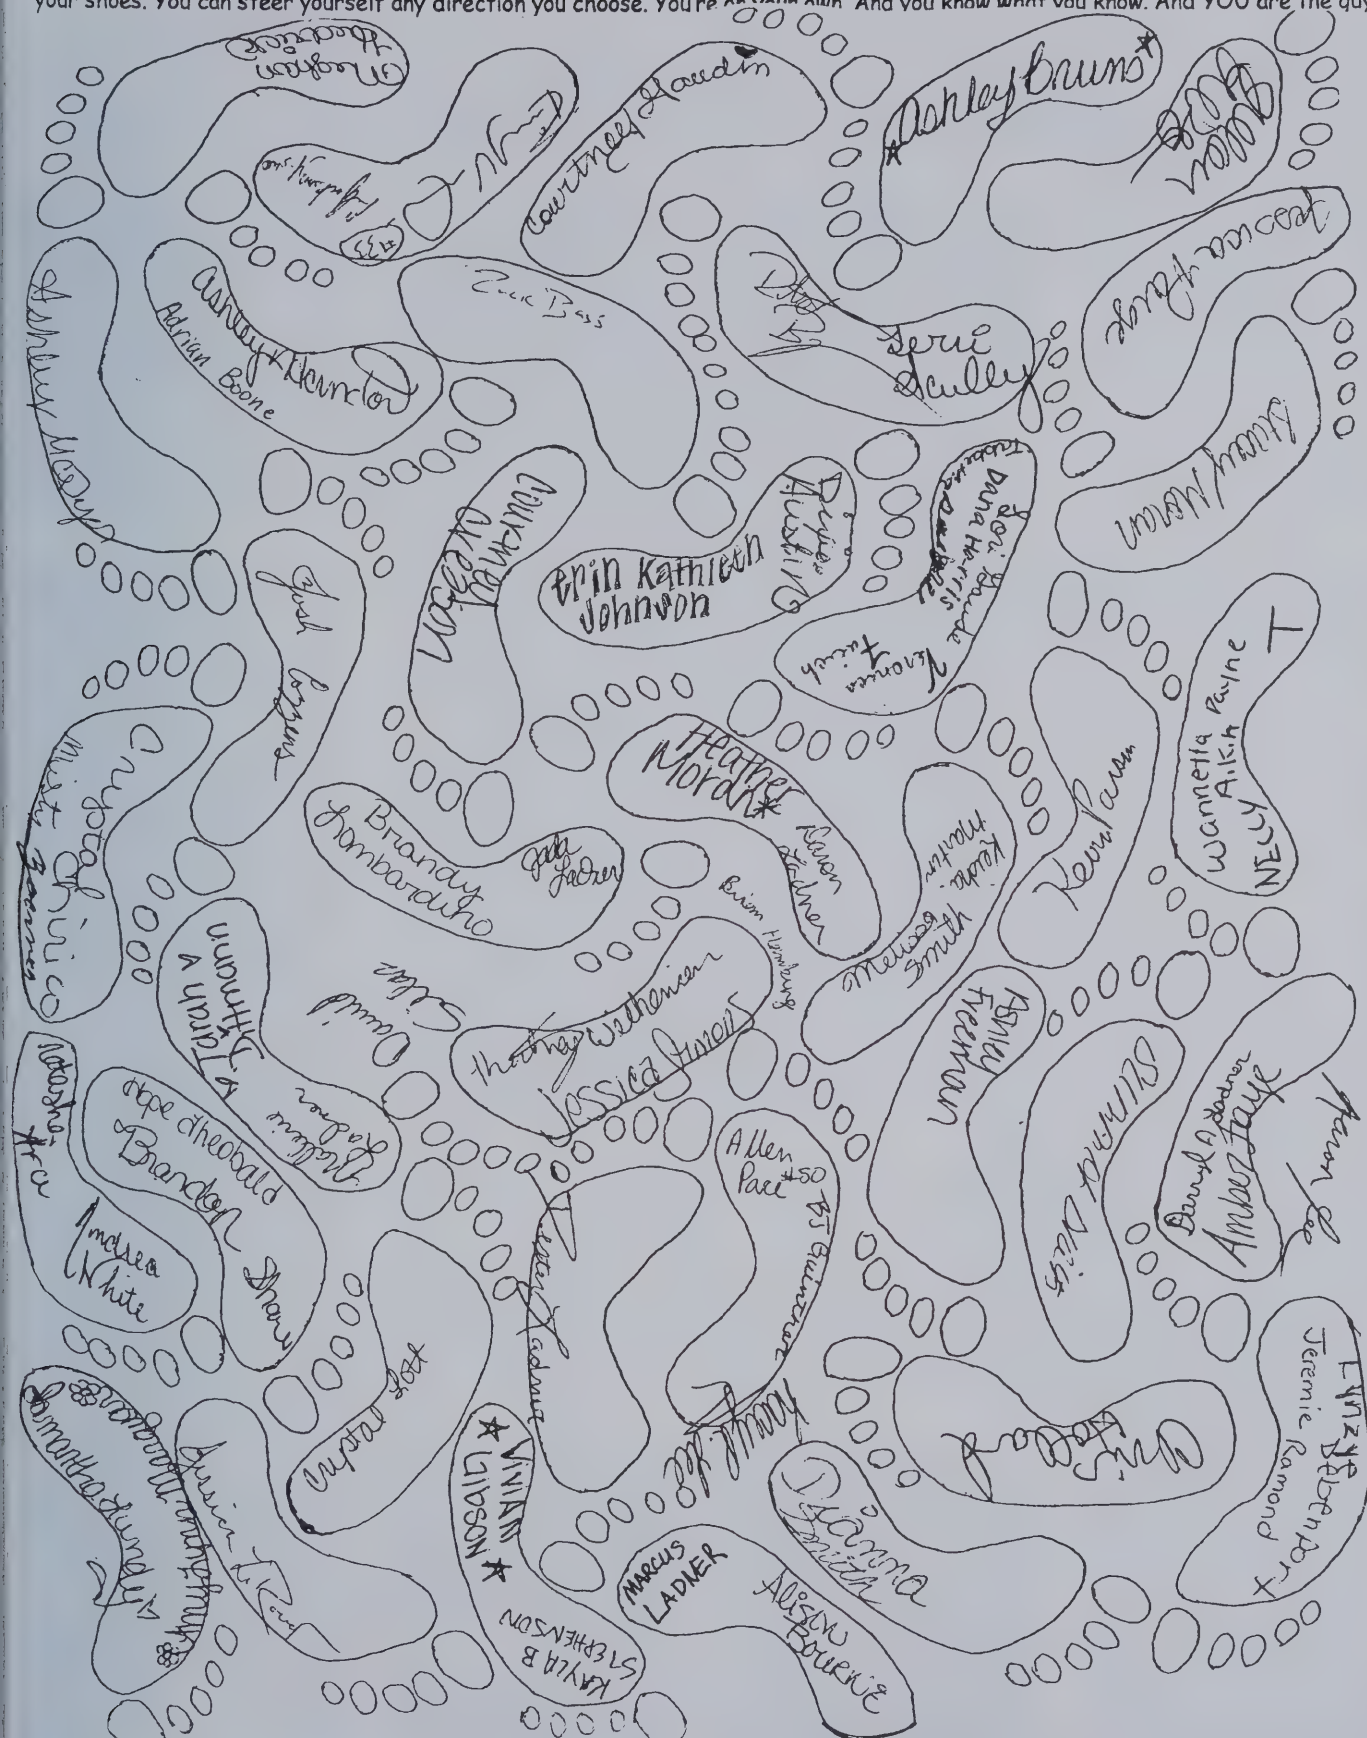

-Dr. Seuss

Congratulations! Today is your day. You're off to Great Places! You're off and away! You have brains in your head. You have feet in that case, of course, you'll head straight out of town. It's opener there in the wide open air. Out there things can happen and frequently who'll decide where to go. You'll look up and down streets. Look'em over with care. About some you will say, "I don't choose to go there." With your head full of brains

In Honor of Kayla Ladner

In September of 1999 Kayla Ladner was involved in an automobile accident that left her unable to attend school. Kayla attended Hancock North Central and went on to attend Hancock Junior High. Kayla is a treasured friend of the class of 2003. She is greatly missed, and she forever remains in the hearts, minds, and prayers of all who know her.

Alison,

From the first moment you came into this world, you've always been a joy to me. Everything you have accomplished has been through hard work, dedication, and staying the course with a positive attitude. Put Christ first in your life, you'll never be alone and you'll always have peace. Acknowledge Him; he will direct your path. Be a leader and be your best at whatever you decide to do. I am very proud of you.

Love,

Dad

Let not mercy and truth forsake you;
Bind them around your neck
Write them on the tablet of your heart
And so find favor and high esteem in
The sight of God and man

Alison,

I am so very proud of you! Over the years I have watched you grow from a got-to-have-it-her-way, mean, know-it-all little sister, to a beautiful, smart understanding, dedicated, got-to-have-it-her-way, know-it-all, loyal sister. I have always watched over you and given you advice that came straight from my heart. That, no matter where you go or what you become, will always stay the same. You have never disappointed me and you make me so proud, so I feel confident letting you go except for the fear of knowing that you can make your own decisions and you may not need me so much. I know you will set your goals high and do everything you can to achieve them. You are a very strong person and I have seen you overcome a lot of obstacles. Keep it up! Be true to yourself and have fun in the process.

I Love You,
Lacey

To my sister, Alison,

With all my love and admiration for your courage and dedication in all that you do and for the beautiful young woman you have become.

A sister is a forever friend—a very intimate meshing of heart, soul, and the mystical cords of memory. Though we don't have a lot of physical childhood memories, we will always have priceless emotional memories; heartfelt advice and unquestionable loyalty. These funny, joyful, painful at times, and historical memories create the foundation of "sisterhood." They validate our history. I feel like you are an extension of me, though we are quiet different. I want you to know how proud I am of you, and I will always be a guaranteed friend of life.

Always your sister,

Johnnia

To my daughter Alison,

I know at times it wasn't easy, but you did it! I am so proud of you, Alison. It took hard work and dedication to your goals to get you this far. Integrity, honesty with yourself and others, and the belief in what you can accomplish will take you the rest of the way. Always rely on your faith and in whom it belongs and you can't go wrong. Remember to always be true to yourself first and everything else will fall into place. My thoughts, prayers, love, respect, and admiration will follow you wherever you go no matter how far. Now go out there and aim high, for the world is yours.

Love,

Mom

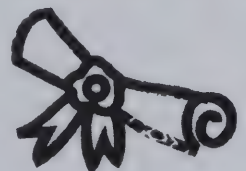

Alison,

I am very proud of you! You are the first grandchild of mine to graduate, and I feel proud. I can remember sitting at the end of the road with you waiting for the school bus and feeling sorry when you had to walk home, but all your sacrifices and dedication has paid off! Keep up the good work.

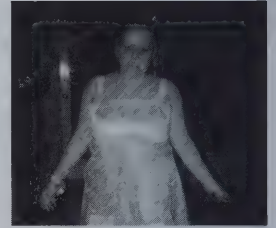

Love,

Grandma

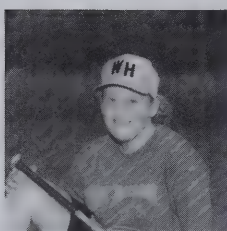

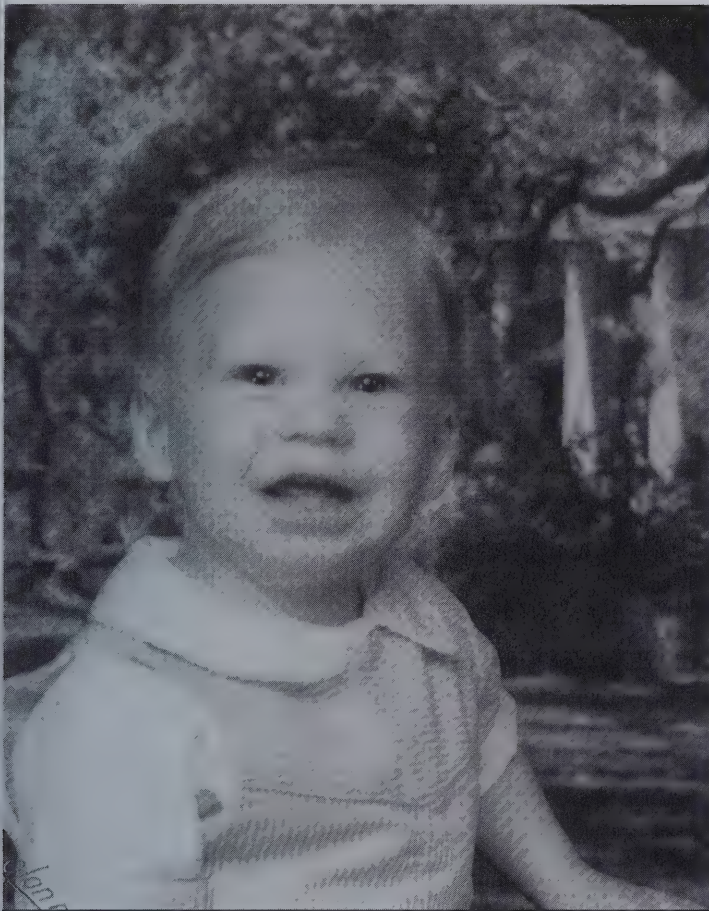

Congratulations Kendra!

Congratulations Kendra for the last eighteen years. We have watched you accomplish many goals. In the future may all of your dreams come true. Keep you head up, and we wish nothing but the best for you.

We love you,
Daddy, Amanda, & Tiffany

Congratulations Joni

Joni,

May all your hopes and dreams come true. You can do all things through Christ who strengthens you, and remember to "keep on smilin'!"

Love Always,

RICKY UNDERWOOD

Ricky, I can't believe you're graduating! I Never thought this day would come. I'm so happy for you. I always knew you could do it. The past 2 ½ years have been the best & I'm looking forward to a lifetime with you. You're capable of anything and don't ever let anyone tell you different. NEVER GIVE UP! I hope all your dreams come true. Don't have too much fun in college. I'll miss you! Always remember- I love you more than anything in the world!

Kellie Marie Bonano

We know you thought we thought you wouldn't make it across that stage, but... we always knew you could and would. As you know now like we always told you, you can do anything you want. Which you've done plenty of that. Keep being strong, be all you can be & always remember we believe in you and love you with all our hearts. -Love Moma & Daddy

Congratulations

Ever since you were born I worried about whether or not I was being the best parent I could be. When I became a single parent, I wondered did I find enough time for the little things that live on in happy memories — like laughter and hugs and “just-between-us” moments? Did I make you feel important? And, even when we disagreed, did you always know that I loved you? Of all the things in my life that I might have, could have or should have done differently, there’s one thing I’d never change and that is having you for a daughter. Seeing you walk across the field on graduation night will be one of the happiest moments of my life. If I didn’t always find a way to say it, I hope I always showed it. I’m proud to be your Mom, and I love you very much!

Mom

Brandi Girl, you’ve grown into a beautiful young woman who’s funny, head strong, stubborn, maybe even a little bit spoiled, but on the inside I still see the cute little twelve year old that took the change out of my pocket and stole my heart. Over the years there were times when you thought I was being too hard or unfair but it was all out of love, trying to prepare you for the future. Graduation opens the door to many opportunities and if you remember just some of what Mom and I tried to teach you, you’ll be fine. I told you once if you believe in yourself you can accomplish anything. Just know that I believe in you and that I will always be there when you need me. I’m proud of you! I’ll always love you.

Dad

Congratulations our beautiful Brandi. You are coming to the end of a chapter in your life and opening a door to another. I pray that you will be successful in whatever you do. Remember with God all things are possible, and you can do anything but without him you can do nothing successful. We are proud of you and love you so much.

Maw-Maw Carolyn & Paw-Paw Joe

I am so proud of you for staying in the game. You are like my daughter and I love you very much. You will get anything you want out of life as long as you put your mind to it. Remember not to settle for the first thing/person that comes along. You are my beautiful niece and I will always be here for you. Stay just the way you are.

Love, Aunt Regina, Uncle Boobie,
Austin & Samana

Brandi!!!

I knew this day would come and I am so proud of you. I know you worked very hard for this moment. You are a smart and beautiful young lady and I know you can succeed in anything you put your mind to in life. We love you and wish you all the best.

Nan-Nan, Larry, Nathan, & Ethan

I've watched you grow from a young girl into a beautiful young woman. Through the years you've made many positive changes because you had someone who cared enough to guide you. No matter how hard the ride was you never gave up. I'm proud and thankful for the times I've shared with you. After all this, I know you are a survivor and can make it through anything.

Best wishes, Denise

I am so proud of you and your Grandma Bass would be too. I know she will be looking down as she sees her baby graduate from high school. Keep God walking beside you and you will always succeed. I love you and wish you the best in life.

Grandpa Bass

I watched you grow into a wonderful and beautiful young woman over the years. I'm very proud to be your aunt. Thanks for being such a great big cousin to Michael and Michelle. We all love you very much. Set your goals high and don't let anything get in your way of achieving them. Keep your head held high and walk proud. Always know that you deserve the very best.

Love, Aunt Lisa

It seems like yesterday I was helping you through your grammar school homework. Now that it's over, you're going to miss all those fun times with your friends you've made along the way. Now that your grown, you're going to wish you were still in school, but guess what? There's no turning back now. You must go forward and face the real world. No more Mom and Mr. Rob paving the way. It's all you, you, you. You can soar with the eagles and be successful if you put your mind, heart and soul into it.

Love, Gigi "The Chief"

Strive for the best and never settle for less. Always use protection and you better marry rich!!

Love, Uncle Vance & Aunt Candy

Our Dearest Kacey

The time has gone by so quickly. It is hard to face the fact that we must let you go to be on your own. There are a few things we want you to remember as you go on with your journey through life. We can't give you a world filled with riches, or promise, a life free from pain or disappointment. You have to determine your tomorrow by the choices you make today. Determine your own worth by yourself and do not depend on others judgements of you. It is so important to choose your own lifestyle and not let others choose it for you. Reflect on what you have been taught and always take time to listen to your heart. Give all you have without looking for something in return. Reach out for that which you can attain and not for that which is impossible. Goals are dreams and wishes that are not always easily reached. You have to work hard to obtain them, never knowing when or where you will reach them. But never stop trying. Dare to dream and live those dreams. Live life fully with the thankfulness and joy for that which you have been given. Don't ever feel threatened by the future or feel guilty about the past. Learn from any mistakes you might have made. As you reach forward with one hand, accept the advice of those who have gone before you. Reach back with the other hand to those who follow you. Remember there is always somebody there for you to reach out to. Never stop believing in yourself. Within you there is someone special, someone wonderful and successful. Thank you for being you. We Love you and are very proud of all your accomplishments. We were truly blessed when God sent you to us.

WE LOVE YOU,

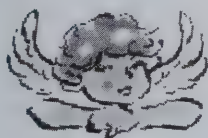

Daddy, Momma, Tiff and Linds

I will love you forever,
I will like you for always,
As long as you're living,
My ANGELS you'll be!!

Dearest Seniors,
Thank you for making my first 2 years at Hancock High so special.
I love you and I wish you the best in the future!!

Love always,
Ms. Stacy

Tarah,

Looking back at your pictures over the years, Brings back much joy, happiness and many tears. Joy fills my heart when I remember the day you were born. Happiness fills my heart when I watched you grow into a strong, sensitive, beautiful person; And many tears fill my heart because you have made me so proud. Go and continue on your path as God as your leader and your faith as your guide. I believe you truly will prosper in all that you do. Remember- "Don't worry about anything, but pray about everything! With a thankful heart, offer up your prayers and request to God."

To Rachel Necaise
Oh' Little Girl of Mine

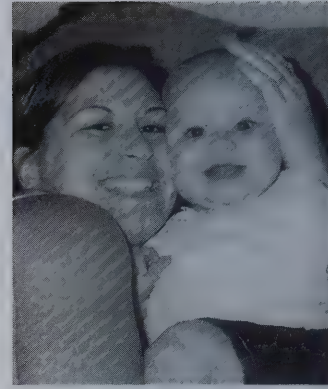

Oh' little girl of mine, where has the time gone to.
Just yesterday you smiled at me with your big brown eyes that radiated the room.
You were the cutest little baby girl with chunky rosy cheeks.
You loved to twist and turn and swirl and make those giggling squeaks.
With buttons and bows, and ribbon and lace you would prance around the room,
And when you saw we had observed, we smiled and gave admiration due.

And then one day i looked away and the baby girl was gone and in her stead was a young girl now, long legged, long hair and all.
You throw away you dollies and replaced them with a ball. You did not need as much of my time for you were growing older and strong.

Though time was passing daily, it did not seem that long, but I turned again in a moment of remembrance and the little girl was gone.
A beautiful butterfly had developed before my very eyes and standing in its shadow was my daughter to my surprise.
You are on the doorstep of womanhood now and all childhoods ways will be gone.
A new exciting world awaits you, of which I want to belong.

Oh' little girl of mine, where has the time gone to.
One day you'll find yourself in my place, and I wish to be there to.
You'll know the fears of motherhood and all the joys it brings.
But remember this my daughter you are the every thing I dreamed a little girl would be.

With Love Always

Rachel,

I am so very proud of you. God could not have blessed a dad with such a beautiful daughter like he blessed me with you. Twelve years have passed by very quickly; so keep reaching for the stars and some day you will reach them. I love you and will always be there for you.

Love,
Dad

The first time I met you, you took my breath away. The day I fell in love with you I didn't know what to say. But now I know and this is true from the bottom of my heart from everything I say and do is for the love I have for you.

Love,

It's hard to believe this time in your life has come so soon. It seems like it was yesterday that you were Cinderella in your kindergarten Mardi Gras parade. Now you're all grown up and will be leaving home. You have accomplished so many goals so far in your life and we know you have many ahead. Always remember how you've gotten this far; with your faith in God. We are very proud of you. Never forget, the road will never be too long to travel back home.

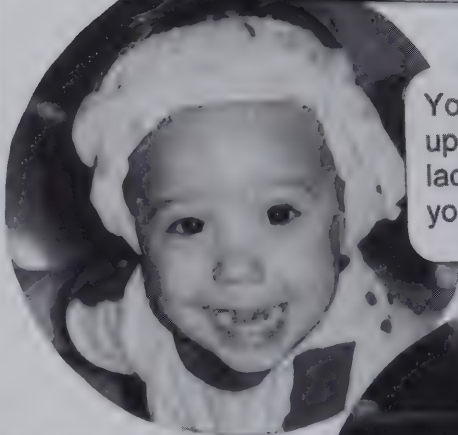

We Love You,

Daddy, Mama, and Danielle

Jillian & Jessica:

You were a surprise when you were born and you continue to surprise us everyday.

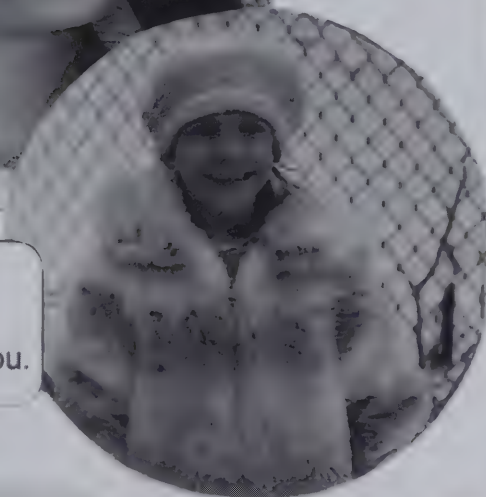

You have both grown up to be wonderful young ladies each following your own paths.

We are very proud of each of you. We are always here for you.

Congratulations and all of our love.

Mom, Dad, & Holly.

As your high school days become memories for you, remember that this is just the beginning of the rest of your life ...

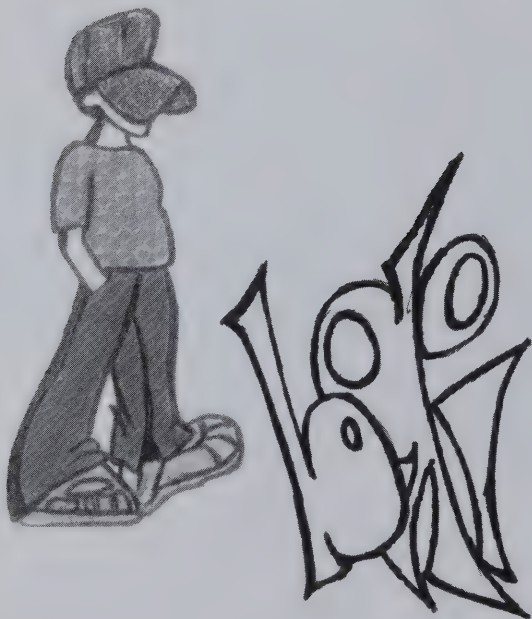

Always know that we are so proud of you and all of your accomplishments.

May all of your dreams be fulfilled. Believe in yourself and always keep God in your heart.

We love you with all our hearts ... Congratulations, Brian!!

JEREMY STRIEF

God blessed you with unique talents and abilities, and you have used those gifts well! You've taken nothing for granted; rather you have worked hard to prepare for a challenging future.

The lessons that you've learned in life are the ways that you've grown as a person: the friendships you have formed and the deeper understanding you have acquired of yourself and others.

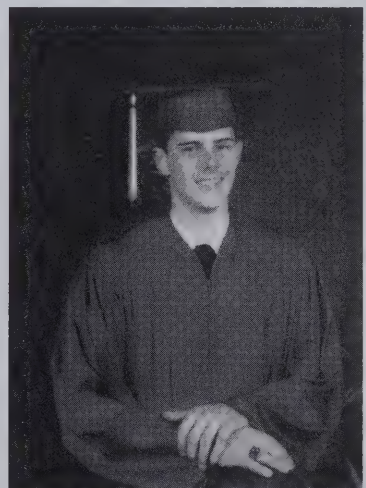

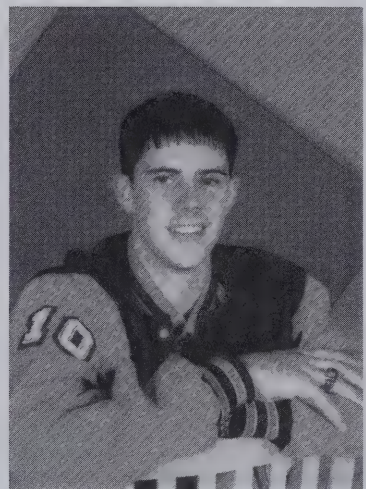

As you celebrate this milestone in your life and look towards a new beginning, never forget what has brought you this far.

Remember the love of your family and friends. Remember your own sacrifice and hard work. And remember that God has a special plan for your life.

You have so much to be thankful for and so much to look forward to! May today mark the beginning of many new goals and accomplishments ...

And a continuation of all of the good things that you have already achieved.

With Faith in God, you can achieve any goal you set in life.

SENIOR 2003

I knew you could do it! Boy, time sure flies- seems like it was just yesterday I left you crying, your first day at kindergarten. And now I'll shed some tears watching my beautiful daughter graduate. You've been through a lot in your tender early years and to see how strong you've become makes me so proud of you. I admire your caring ways, concern of others, your thoughtfulness, the love you have for your family, most of all your honesty. Keep your head high, that beautiful smile, and always know you can accomplish whatever you wish for. You're an inspiration, not only to me, but to everyone who knows you. God so blessed me by giving me the greatest gift of all- You KEISHA ANNE MARTIN- my wonderful daughter. I love you with all of my being, heart and soul. Always I will be right here for you and know I just want to thank you for not only being you but for being my daughter.

We love you so much! You are such a special person to so many people.
We know you will do well in anything that you decide to do in life. You have always put your heart and soul into everything you did. It seems like just yesterday you were a little girl, getting into everything, asking millions of questions and aggravating your brother. Now you are all grown up and preparing to leave for college. We will be lost without you. Bailey will be calling "ACE" and Pa Pa will be worried about his "Lou Lou." No one wanted you to grow-up. The years passed by so quickly. I guess you will always be a bossy little girl to us. We have enjoyed every game, every summer at the softball field, all the weekend trips to play ball. We always have and will continue to support you in everything you do. We are so proud of you and the young lady you have become.

With all our love and good wishes,
Mom, Dad, Bubby, Bailey,
NaNa and Papa

Yesterday is history

But it seems that only yesterday the three of you started kindergarten.

Today is a gift

That is why we call it the "PRECIOUS PRESENT" each one of you has been a PRESENT the God has given to us.

Tomorrow is a mystery

Tomorrow the three of you will start a new journey. Each day that goes by we will pray and ask God to keep you safe throughout your journeys. We wish you the best.

With love & best wishes for tomorrow.

Your family!

Daron and Duon,

Every day God performs miracles and on the day you were born He performed two.

I have watched you grow from tiny babies, into playful toddlers, from entertaining adolescents to mischievous teenagers and into wonderful, strong young men. You are a blessing to me and I thank God each and every day for sending you to me.

Always follow Him and keep Him close and He will guide you and fulfill your dreams as He has mine through you.

I Love You, Mom

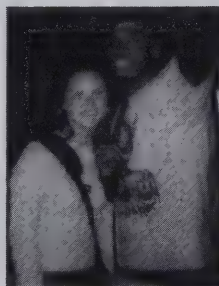

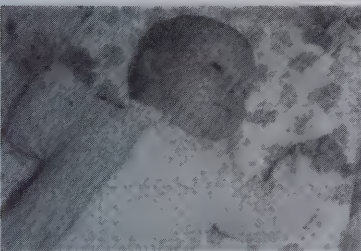

Kayla,

Where has the years gone, it seems like it was only yesterday we were teaching you to talk & walk and yet here today you are ready to spread your wings to fly from our nest. We all have watched you grow into a beautiful young lady. What I challenge you today and every day (as you spread your wings to fly) is that you find the precious present of life!

It is wise for one to think about the past & learn from the past, but it is wise not to think too long for one can lose themself in the past. It is also wise for one to think about their future & to prepare for it, but it is also wise to not live for the future. When you feel guilty over the imperfect past or anxious over the unknown future one can make themself unhappy & find that they are not living for the present. Your past was the present & your future will be the present.

The precious present is simple. It is who you are right now & it is precious. Live for the present moment to be happy and you will find that you are the precious present.

We love you,
Dad, Mom, & Heather

Congratulations Belynn !!!

Here Are the Things We Want for You

We want you to always be happy and to be safe and secure. We want you to be well and at peace with yourself. We want you to get from life all that you desire, and more. We want you to feel free to do whatever you want and to let that freedom soar. We want you to know love and be surrounded by it, to bear no pain and feel no hurt. We want you to be the best person you can be. We want you to share the wonderful gift of yourself with others - how very lucky are those who will receive that beauty!

Above all, we want you to know how very much we love you!

Sure,
we light up
the schools...

But we're making our kids a lot brighter, too.

We know our schools can use all the help we can give them. That's why we've created ready-to-learn courses to teach students topics from energy safety to environmental awareness.

We also sponsor classroom activities, judge science fair projects, and provide thousands of dollars in scholarships each year.

Education is important to us all. It enhances employment opportunities, it helps us attract new industrial development, and it gives our young people a future here at home.

After all, knowledge is power.

Terri Scully, a senior at Hancock High School, has just joined the Mississippi Army National Guard. She will train and serve as an Administrative Specialist. For joining the Guard, she will receive:

- A $3000 enlistment bonus;
- $476 a month for college from the Montgomery GI Bill;
- Up to $10,000 in college funds from the State Education Assistance Program, and;
- $8 an hour starting out while learning a skill and building her resume;

Terri has decided that she wants to get ahead in life, and the Mississippi Army National Guard is helping. Want to know more about the Guard? Ask Terri.

Or you can call SFC David Cooper at 326-3063.
